Ravne veneer knives - an unforge

Wood is one of the oldest materials used in history.

Different species of wood have unique characteristics. Rich experience and knowledge in production of veneer knives enable us to offer the right knife for any wood, from soft woods to hardest tropical woods.

First-class raw materials, professional heat treatment and machining, combined with devotion to quality, fulfil the highest demands in the plywood and veneer industry. Ravne veneer knives up to 6.000 mm length (236 ") in a proper hardness are made of high-grade inlaid steel or of different through hardened solid steels.

Ravne chipper knives - a synonym for durability

Development of different steel grades throughout our company history led to durable knives for chipping wood which stay sharp for a long time. The knowledge of customer's processing equipment and production conditions combined with advanced modern technology, top quality raw materials and proper hardness insure a first class knife for each application.

Ravne chipper knives are available in different qualities, either zone or through hardened, for all types and conditions of wood. Precise dimensions allow easy mounting and adjusting.

Ravne planer knives - a high precision tool

For planing various types of wood, a knife needs to be tough and resistant to wear.

Due to growing demands we developed Ravne planer knives for softwood, hardwood and non - laminated materials with excellent tempering properties.

Ravne can provide thin planing knives made of high grade carbide tipped steel, solid high speed steel and tool steel for high edge holding quality.

Ravne serrated back knives are made of solid high speed steel with a high precision serrated back system for use in security profile cutter heads.

A lot of standard sizes as well as non-standard sizes are available.
